Excellence in Construction Award, 2007

SPCA of York County New Facility

York, PA

The SPCA required a new modernized facility to help them care for stray and unwanted animals. The one-story building contains a dog wing with outdoor runs, a kennel and a grooming area, and a cat wing with spacious "cat condos." Other areas include offices and a conference room, adoption rooms, reception area, gift shop, veterinary suite and recovery areas, walk-in cooler and food storage room. The owner said, "The Kinsley team, both full-time on the project site and those behind the scene, worked well with our architect, all regulatory agencies and utility providers and subcontractors to move our project forward with minimal delays." This project received an Award of Merit.
